ABOUT DR KHURRUM

Dr Khurrum is a GDC registered specialist and is associated with the European Federation Of Periodontics (EFP). He is the co-founder of Perio Matters, and a clinical teacher at the University of Manchester Dental Hospital. This allows him to be involved with teaching and the further education of colleagues, which he really enjoys.

Dr Khurrum completed his specialist training in Periodontology at the world-renowned Eastman Dental Institute, University College London (UCL). His clinical work has been limited to specialist periodontics for several years. Many colleagues refer to him for specialist periodontics and continue to do so as a result of positive patient experience, treatment and feedback.

“ My ethos is to treat patients with periodontal challenges. I aim to educate and motivate patients about this condition and I have excellent results with my periodontal care, and also in the management of peri-implant disease.

Many of my patients have severe gum disease or failing implants and are finding it difficult to manage their condition. I help them to make difficult decisions about the prognosis of their teeth or implants and help them to overcome their anxieties. I provide solutions resulting in health and combat the progression of disease.

I also provide cosmetic gum surgeries to assist with restorative work that may require re-contouring of your patient's gums (mucogingival surgery). ”

Our team provides a professional, relaxing and comfortable setting for your patients as well as providing cutting edge dentistry - giving you clinical confidence in our specialist treatment. We will keep you up to date with your patient's progress at every stage and return the patient to you for their continued care.
